

DURA TEMP CORPORATION

Sales Engineer

This might be the right opportunity for you if...

- You have a Bachelor's Degree in mechanical engineering.
- You would like the opportunity to travel the U.S. and globally.
- You would like to live and work in the U.S.
- You can speak and write fluently in Spanish and English.
- You are very proficient with CREO 3-D CAD software.
- You can work independently but also like being part of a team of self-motivated engineers and sales professionals.
- You want to use your engineering skills in the field by meeting with clients and developing your relationship with them as a technical advisor.
- You want to work in an organization where you can make an immediate impact and be surrounded by a team who supports your success.

The Company

Dura Temp Corporation, a well-established provider of products to glass factories worldwide, has a unique opportunity for an individual with a degree in mechanical engineering and an interest in travel. We are looking for someone who has a high technical aptitude and an outgoing personality that can provide technical sales support to our clients in South America, Mexico, Europe (Spain and Portugal) and certain parts of the U.S.

Training Period

We take training and development very seriously so being based at our headquarters in Toledo, Ohio for a 1-2-year period is required. After the successful completion of this initial period, there would be consideration given to relocate and work from our Miami, FL area sales office.

The Opportunity

This position includes a base salary plus bonus, medical-life-dental-vision insurances, paid vacation, as well as 401(K) participation after one (1) year.

If you would like the opportunity to work in an organization where you can have a positive impact on manufacturing operations and travel the world, we would like to hear from you.
